Some helpful information about commercial hoods and fire code:

- Type 1 hoods must be inspected, tested, and maintained every six months.
- It is the owner's responsibility to ensure that the hood is in compliance with fire code.
- Hood systems must also be cleaned on a regular basis. See MFD's hood cleaning list for details.
- All hood technicians must be ICC Certified to work in Marysville to perform routine service and maintenance.
- Technicians must have a current manufacturer certification to perform any system alterations, add or remove appliances, or system installation.
- Please ensure you are hiring a company with the appropriate certification.
- Insurance companies review your maintenance records after an incident. It is very important to keep your service and maintenance scheduling and documentation up to date.
