Chief McFalls introduced our guest speaker Matt Keller and tech support Brian Dean from the Center for Public Safety Excellence.

After sharing his background, Matt Keller explained that the two community driven surveys taken today will help the District move forward and plan for the future to better serve its citizens. Matt shared that strategic planning is a continuous and systematic process making decisions about the future, determining how to measure success and how to get there.

Survey 1 - The first survey of community driven feedback is on expectations, concerns, and strengths of the District followed by any additional comments.

Survey 2 – The second survey asks participants to prioritize the Districts services such as fire prevention, fire investigation, fire suppression, technical rescue, or hazmat.

Matt thanked everyone for their participation and input.
