- Fire Alarm Systems must be inspected, tested, and maintained annually by a licensed and certified technician.
- It is ultimately the owner's responsibility to ensure the fire alarm system is up to date and working properly at all times.
- Insurance companies review fire system records after an incident. It is very important to keep your system compliant and up to code.
- Your contractor should submit their reports in a timely manner to TEGRIS, which is a third party tracking software used by the Fire Marshal's Office to ensure compliance.
